Lab proposed

Congressman Melvin Price (Dem., 3rd Ill.) has requested that the Army study the possibility of using the Granite City Army Depot to provide additional laboratory space for the Army Aviation Systems Command (Avscom) in St. Louis, he said during the weekend.

Rep. Price made the suggestion during a meeting with Secretary of the Army Howard H. Callaway this month.

Secretary Callaway promised to evaluate the laboratory situation at Avscom and told the congressman he will report back to him as soon as possible. The Army recently considered moving Avscom out of the St. Louis area, but last month announced that it would remain here.

Plan stricter mobile home regulations

An ordinance to regulate the placement of mobile homes in Granite City has been submitted to the Granite City Council for consideration.

The ordinance must be posted in pamphlet form 30 days before the council can act upon it, according to a ruling by City Attorney George Pilcoff.

Robert W. Stevens, city clerk, said three copies of the pamphlet were posted in his office for public inspection last week and those wishing to examine copies may do so at the Granite City Hall.

The ordinance applies only to mobile homes which are to be placed in the city after the date of approval by the council. Units already placed are not affected but must meet provisions of the ordinance before they may be moved or sold.

Units being moved into the city after the effective date of the ordinance must be placed on lots at least 50 feet wide and 110 feet in length. They must be placed on concrete pads or piers and must be anchored and skirted. Jacks or stabilizers will be required to prevent movement of the units and must be on concrete footings.

The ordinance also requires that a permit be obtained from the city building inspector's office and approved by the City Council before mobile homes may be constructed or installed in the city. A certificate of occupancy also must be obtained from the building inspector before the unit can be occupied.

Units must be placed at least five feet from the side property lines and shall be set back from

17 file for 8 school positions

Opposition for election to school board seats in all three Quad-City school districts was assured today following the closing of the filing period Friday. Seventeen candidates are seeking eight board posts.

Nine candidates have filed petitions as candidates for three board posts in the April 13 school election in Granite City District 9, while five candidates are vying for three Venice District 3 school board posts and three candidates seek two board seats in Madison District 12.

Those who have filed nominating petitions have through tomorrow to withdraw from the elections if they should decide to do so. The withdrawal period will close at the end of regular office hours at the school administration offices Tuesday.

Only one additional filing was reported Friday, the last day of the filing period—that of Nelson Edward Hediger, 2332 Zippel St., who filed as a candidate in the Granite City election.

Among the nine candidates in the Granite City election are incumbent board members George E. Moore, Donald Stucke and Harold Davis whose terms expire this year.

Others include Dr. Felicia Koch, C. Mike Michaeloff Jr., Miss Almada Lahr, Thomas Mofsky and Cecil E. Williams. In the Venice District, only two of the three incumbents whose terms expire this year are seeking re-election. They are Elmer A. Taylor and Jack Tolliver. Leo Davinroy, now board president, is not seeking re-election. The other three candidates in Venice are William J. Fechte, William Gathright and Mrs. Lucille M. Kalerger.

The three candidates seeking two board seats in Madison are Elvers Johnson, incumbent; David J. Miskelley and Frank Eaves. Frank Derner, the other incumbent whose term expires this year, did not file for re-election.

City funds may be gone by mid-April

By HARRY BARNES

Press-Record Staff Writer

Granite City fund balances have dropped to such alarmingly low levels in operating accounts that the city may be unable to meet a substantial part of its financial obligations by mid-April, it was learned by the Press-Record today.

The city's financial problem is so acute, in fact, that there appeared some chance early today that the city may have insufficient funds to pay all the bills presented for approval in tonight's City Council session.

That prospect hinges on the total amount of the regular claim list which was being prepared today by the office of City Clerk Robert Stevens, and which is expected to include another sizeable bill by the Finis Ernest Contracting Co. of East St. Louis for repairs to broken sewer lines in the Nameoki area.

There were reports last week that city finance officials may recommend to council members tonight that they allow first for the payment of payroll items, and delay payment of regular claims for supplies and services until the financial picture is more clearly defined. No payroll list is scheduled for action in tonight's meeting because the payroll for the last half of March, amounting to $85,318, was approved in the March 18 council meeting, but only part of the money needed for payment of the salaries was transferred into the payroll account in that session. The balance must be transferred tonight out of the city's remaining funds.

On the basis of reports by City Treasurer Paul Rutledge, the city now has about $160,000 in available funds, including March receipts of state income tax and sales tax which totaled $142,000, for use to pay general fund expenses in the general fund.

Actually, city records show total balances of $460,496 in the general levy fund as of Feb. 28, but the bulk of these are in separate tax levy accounts for specific purposes and cannot be used for any purpose other than that for which they were levied. For example, the city has $159,554 in the account for payment of interest and judgments, and cannot spend that money for any other purpose.

Rutledge's report of fund balances as of Feb. 28 in the general levy transferable accounts, upon which the city depends for funds to operate the police, fire, street and other major departments, showed $155,154 in the working cash fund and $29,845 in the state funds tax account, a total of $185,000.

Early in March the treasurer's office received $100,000 in state sales tax funds, bringing total available funds to $285,000, but on March 4 the City Council approved a $204,000 transfer of funds against this account, reducing the balance to $81,000. Last week the city

Renew college effort; heading to be May 9

The Junior College Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, chaired by Dr. George T. Wilkins Sr., met Thursday to discuss the petition that has been filed by 129 residents of Granite City Community Unit School District 9 asking for a hearing before the Illinois Community College Board.

The hearing in May will permit reconsideration of the decision to annex the Granite City district to the Belleville Area College district effective July 1.

Representatives of BAC and the Madison, Venice and Granite City school district were present Thursday, and Madison and Venice residents expressed the opinion that those districts desire to remain in the BAC along with Granite City.

"Otherwise, in future planning for an area college center, they would be left out because the Tri-Cities is a unit in itself," a committee spokesman said. "They desire to remain as part of the Tri-Cities Area" in regard to college services, it was emphasized.

The hearing petition does not mention Madison or Venice in challenging BAC annexation.

A public hearing is tentatively scheduled at Granite City High School South for 2 p.m. Thursday, May 9, 1974. "All area citizens should be present to voice their opinion at the hearing," the spokesman said.

"It was brought out at the meeting that BAC, which has been in operation more than 40 years, has one of the most comprehensive junior college programs in vocational, technical, educational and parallel liberal arts."

"After the present annexations are made July 1 to BAC, the assessed valuation would be more than $1,100,000,000."

"At the present time, the tax rate in the BAC is 30 per cent less than that in the Lewis and Clark Community College, Godfrey."

"Bruce Wissore, an administrator, reported a new action of the BAC that students who are already attending community colleges other than BAC will be able to continue their education until graduation in the community college which they started."

"Furthermore, the BAC will pay the out-of-district costs on those students already enrolled outside the district before an annexation."

"The committee suggests strongly that all citizens of District 9 make their views known that they want to stay in BAC, because BAC has already made provisions for local programs and subjects that local industry and business need right here at home."

"Plans are virtually completed now with BAC for toll-free telephone lines. A local representative is being selected now, and all plans are virtually completed."

"It was the unanimous opinion of the committee that School District 9 should remain in the BAC District as approved by the State Community College Board as recommended by the District 9 Board of Education, the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, the Granite City Rotary Prayer Breakfast group and by the vast majority of citizens in Granite City, Madison, Venice and Pontoon Beach."

Hearings on town budgets Tuesday

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Press-Record Staff Writer

Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice townships will hold public hearings on their road and bridge fund budgets tomorrow, a date set by law.

Chouteau Township will hold a hearing on its road budget at 7 p.m. at 825 Thorngate Drive.

Venice's hearing is to be at 7:30 p.m. at the town office, 1502 Fifth St., Madison. Town and general assistance budgets also are to be considered by Venice electors.

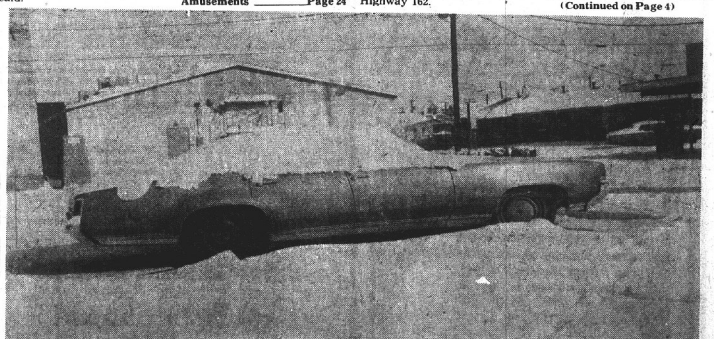

Nameoki electors will have an opportunity to express their views on the township's road and bridge budget at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the town hall, 4250 Highway 162.

In Nameoki Township, a $99,000 tentative budget is to be considered, $20,500 higher than the 1973-74 fiscal year budget and $3,300 higher than the total road and bridge fund last year after the budget was amended to include $17,000 in federal revenue sharing.

The Venice road and bridge tentative budget estimates expenditures of $35,735, up from last year's $32,245 budget. Carried over to this year's appropriation bill is $8,053 in revenue sharing funds for equipment and administration purposes not spent last year.

The new Venice town fund budget, which also is to be considered tomorrow, totals

Auto Division of Smith hopes for improvement

While the Automotive Division of A. O. Smith Corp. will operate at a loss in the first quarter of 1974, there are hopes for an improvement in the economic trend, L. B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer, noted in his remarks last week to New York financial analysts.

Price controls and the energy crisis are causing a severe decline in profits of the corporation during the current quarter, he noted.

Chief reason for the decrease in A. O. Smith earnings was the sudden drop in orders for auto frames, including those produced at the Granite City plant, where there have been resulting layoffs and reduction of the staff size.

Unit sales of auto frames by the Automotive Division will be down about 50 per cent from the first quarter of 1973, Chairman Smith said. This is due to fewer sales of standard and luxury cars. Many small cars do not use full frames in their construction.

Other products within the

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Automotive Division, notably truck frames and control arms, are holding about level with a year ago, Chairman Smith said. While sales of the company's other product lines, such as elevators, water heaters, electric motors and Harvester systems, will generally be ahead of a year ago, price controls have caused profit margins to fall, below 1973 levels.

The controls program forced A. O. Smith to absorb increasing raw material and labor costs while awaiting federal government approval to increase prices, Smith said.

He estimated first quarter corporate earnings at about $500,000, or ten cents per share, compared with $4,534,000, or 92 cents per share, last year, when earnings were a record.

Sales in the first quarter will be about $132 million, compared with $156 million in 1973. The company was hurt immediately by the public's turning away from larger size cars, Smith said, because A. O. Smith is the world's largest builder of frames for those cars. He pointed out that the profit dip results from the abruptness of the decline in volume as well as the actual decline itself, and that as cost reduction programs become effective, results will improve.

In discussing the company's other product lines, Smith noted that the biggest sales increase will come in the Armco Elevator subsidiary, which a year ago was hurt by strikes of elevator construction workers. While sales and profits will be down in the Meter Systems Division, this is primarily because of a two-week strike during the quarter. The division has a record amount of orders for its petroleum meter products currently on hand, Smith noted.

A. O. Smith, with its subsidiaries, is a widely diversified manufacturer of electric motors, meter systems, auto and truck frames, agricultural feed storage and handling systems, water heating equipment, elevators and other products.

Q. What is the procedure for a Vietnam veteran to apply for the State of Illinois Vietnam conflict bonus? What requirements are necessary?—Capt. Wayne Huston, APO, New York.

A. The Illinois Vietnam Compensation Act provides a $100 bonus to persons who served in the Armed Forces between Jan. 1, 1961, and March 28, 1973; are currently on active duty or honorably discharged; received the Vietnam Service Medal or Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal-Vietnam Area; and were residents of Illinois for a period of at least twelve months immediately prior to entry into active service.

Dependents of a deceased serviceman, if the death is service-connected, receive $1,000.

As of Feb. 5, 1974, the state had paid $14,808,700 to living veterans and $2,701,700 to dependents of those killed in action.

The state also offers a $50 a month bonus for every month an Illinois resident was held as a Prisoner of War in Southeast Asia.

In my fiscal 1975 budget, I requested $3,415,900 for the Veterans' Commission, an increase of $293,400 from the last fiscal year. These funds will be used to increase the Veterans' Outreach program, a program which helps other veterans apply for state benefits such as scholarships and specially adapted housing, as well as federal benefits.

Scholarships covering enrollment, tuition and fees to state controlled universities and some junior colleges are available to veterans and to dependents of Prisoners of War and Persons Missing in Action, who fulfill entrance requirements.

The Illinois Veterans' Commission's main office at 126 W. Jefferson, Springfield, has on file 1,156,700 Illinois veterans.

A letter from home "I was happy..."

"Tell my friends I was happy when I died." These were not the last words of a 30-year-old invalid. Instead, they were the feelings of a 21-year-old Illinois youth who knew he was dying.

"I want to give my body to science, because it was a good body," Gary Moray said from his room at St. Louis, St. Louis, St. Louis.

Firmin Desloge Hospital in St. Louis. "So many young persons die from drugs." "I wonder why this is happening to me?" he asked chaplain James Sunderland. "But, I'll know the answer soon."

Gary lost his life as the result of severe spinal damage, suffered while warming up in the gym at Southern Illinois University in Carbondale.

When he died, Gary was NCAS champion gymnast. In another month, he would have competed as a member of a U.S. gymnast team in the Soviet Union. The sudden death of a clean-cut athlete at the age of 21 is hard to explain. But it's also hard to understand the slow death of an aged person who sits drooping all day in a nursing home, not even knowing who he is. Little can be said for death at any age. But there can be good preparation, and a good attitude, whether one is a long horse national champion like Gary, or an octogenarian in a wheelchair.

Long ago, when Maria-Theresa lay dying, she refused a mind-deadening drug. "I want to meet God awake," she said. Evidently Gary had similar feelings of openness, holding on until he could share holy communion with his parents from Prospect Heights.

"Tell my friends I was happy when I died... it was a good body... so many young persons die from drugs."

Rotary attains 74 membership mark

Granite City Rotary President Joseph Hessler noted at the club's regular noon meeting in the YMCA the club has reached its membership goal of 74 members in 1974.

"Baby" Rotarians (new members) introduced were David Fielding, Charles Hayes and William Hoshire.

Secretary George T. Wilkins Sr. reported the club ranked 13 in a field of 32 clubs in attendance.

Capt. Ronald Kerley of the Salvation Army gave a side presentation entitled "The Salvation Army—Today, Yesterday and Tomorrow."

It traced the group's history here since locating in Granite City in 1923. The film presentation also pointed out the need for a new Corps building and community center.

President Hessler announced that Rotarian Steve Bristol will serve as Camelot auction chairman for this year.

Rotarian Alvin T. Barnes announced that he will show a film on the Masters golf tournament on Tuesday.

Buyers of 1971 cars to get state tax refunds

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott announced Thursday afternoon that an appeal won by his office in the Illinois Supreme Court will bring $3.7 million in refunds involving the Illinois Retailers' Occupation Tax to 1971 buyers of new cars and trucks in Illinois.

Scott said the sales tax refunds will go to persons in Illinois who bought new cars between Aug. 16, 1971, and Dec. 10, 1971. The refunds stem from the Dec. 10, 1971, repeal of the federal excise tax on cars by Congress which made the repeal retroactive to Aug. 16, 1971.

The Illinois Retailers' Occupation Tax is calculated on the basis of the total sales price of the automobile which, in 1971, included the repealed Federal Excise Tax, Scott explained. Illinois Supreme Court victory came on Wednesday, March 20, when the state high court upheld Scott's contention that a 1972 law passed by the Illinois General Assembly was constitutional.

The 1972 Assembly action appropriated the $3.7 million for the tax refunds, which will go to an estimated 300,000 Illinois vehicle buyers. In February of 1973, the Cook County Circuit Court held the refund plan unconstitutional.

Scott, who immediately appealed the lower court ruling, hailed this week's Illinois Supreme Court decision as a victory for the taxpayers.

Persons seeking the sales tax refunds should apply to the state Department of Revenue, Scott advised.

SIUE schedules teacher centers

Spring sessions of the Area Teachers' Centers funded by the National Science Foundation through Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville are scheduled to begin next week in Clayton, Mo., and Belleville.

The Belleville Center meets Wednesdays, and the first session will be held from 4 to 6:30 p.m. March 27, at St. Augustine School, 1800 West Belle St.

According to Thomas C. O'Brien, associate professor of elementary education at SIUE, and director of the centers, the program is a "continuing, collaborative, coherent effort by teachers and school administrators to improve elementary school education by using and conducting research on young children's thinking."

April 1 deadline for studded tires

Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, has reminded motorists that studded tires must be removed from vehicles by Monday, April 1.

Howlett said the period for use of studded tires on passenger cars, formerly Oct. 1 through May 1, was reduced by 2½ months through legislation approved by the last session of the General Assembly and signed into law by the governor.

The new law now prohibits use of studded tires until Nov. 15.

Agriculture Day in state

Gov. Dan Walker has signed a proclamation designating today as the first Agriculture Day in Illinois.

A tribute to Illinois farmers will be presented by state Agriculture Director Robert J. "Pud" Williams today before 300 members of the Midwest Chapter of the National Agri Marketing Association, meeting in Chicago.

In the proclamation, the governor says farmers have made contributions to the welfare of Illinoisans, often at considerable risk and cost to themselves.

He adds that from Illinois' prairies "have come grains, meat and eggs to feed not only a hungry nation, but much of the rest of the world."

Illinois is the number one state in agricultural exports in the United States. It is second in harvested acreage of principal crops, and has the nation's largest agricultural exchanges.

Steel firm shows films to support its coke hood plan

Granite City Steel on Saturday revealed a series of pictures of March 14 and 15 tests demonstrating the potential effectiveness of an additional coke oven emission control system the plant is seeking authorization to install.

During a state Pollution Control Board hearing at Edwardsville, GC Steel showed film of the operation of an experimental mobile hood enclosure equipped with water sprays.

The experimental hood was temporarily constructed on the coke "guide" apparatus to demonstrate technical feasibility of the proposed controls.

The device is intended to further suppress and collect emissions from fresh coke pushed from the ovens, supplementing a coke quench car "fogging" system already in operation.

Granite City Steel Vice President Donald P. Cairns said the demonstration, as illustrated by the film, "Con-firm's engineering evaluations that the innovative mobile hood design will work and is an effective means of controlling coke pushing emissions can be employed using the GCS mobile hood concept."

Sprays mounted in the mobile hood are activated and remain on throughout the push. The water blankets and cools the coke. Dr. Cairns stressed that the prototype model was not equipped with exhaust fan or gas cleaning equipment, also part of the GCS design—emphasizing that the additional hardware would result in even further emission reductions.

Five filmed pushes were shown at the hearing—two without the hood and three with the hood, showing not only "before-after" comparisons but also the almost total absence of different spray nozzles as well.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency has recommended against Pollution

Control Board approval of the proposed GCS mobile hood design. The IEPA favors a different method, a stationary stack installation. With regard to that, Dr. Cairns said:

"There is no unwillingness on the part of Granite City Steel to provide the best practicable technology for reducing coke pushing emissions."

"At issue is not whether, but which of two control systems should be installed."

"We have demonstrated with the experimental hood that our proposed system can be developed to be fully as effective as that promoted by the state."

"Our design can be installed faster, would require less energy to operate, would be more economical, environmentally, and would cost less than the IEPA proposal—an important consideration in view of the almost $1 million we have just invested to reduce emissions from those same coke ovens."

4 hearings this week on coke procedures

Adequacy of a system designed by Granite City Steel to control air pollution emissions from coke ovens is to be determined by the Illinois Pollution Control Board during its series of hearings that began at 10 a.m. today.

The final hearing on Saturday will be held in the court room on the third floor of the Granite City City Hall and is scheduled to hear citizen complaints and testimony concerning air pollution conditions in the Quad-City area, according to Walter Franke, manager of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency office at Collinsville. That hearing is to begin at 1:30 p.m.

Hearings also are to be held Wednesday at 10 a.m. in the Illinois Room at the University Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on Thursday and Friday beginning at 10 a.m. both days.

The board room at the city courthouse in Edwardsville. The hearings are being held by the Illinois Pollution Control Board on a request by the company for its third one-year variance on EPA regulations requiring the company to begin at 1:30 p.m.

The company's request is opposed by the EPA, which maintains that water fogging system designed by the company to control pollution emissions from hot coke as it is being unloaded from the ovens into railroad cars is ineffective. Instead, the EPA is recommending use of a system now employed by a plant in St. Louis.

Hearings held last Wednesday, Friday and Saturday primarily involved testimony of technical nature by EPA agents called by attorneys for the company. Among these were Franke and Miles Zanco, manager of the surveillance section of EPA.

Granite City Steel has spent about $4 million in air pollution controls since 1972, when the company signed an agreement with the EPA providing for installation of a number of pollution control devices. That agreement followed the filing of charges by the EPA against the steel firm in 1970.

Granite City maintains that unless a new approach is taken Granite City will not meet air pollution standards of less than 75 micrograms per cubic meter (density of dust and pollutants in the air) by mid-1975, deadline set by the federal government.

Shows that Granite City has made less progress since 1971 than other cities of the region, he said.

While Saturday's hearing for area citizens is scheduled at 1:30 p.m., EPA officials will be on hand at 12:30 to meet with anyone who wish to make arrangements to appear before the board, Franke said.

Seek to identify body

Illinois State Police of District 11, which includes the Quad-City area, are attempting to identify the body of a young woman found wrapped in a blanket off Route 3 about one mile south of Dupu at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The woman's hands were tied in front of her and two plastic bags were tied over her head by a rope. Troopers believe suffocation from the plastic bags was the cause of death, but autopsy results had not yet been released.

The woman was a negro female, about 22 years of age, with black hair and brown eyes. She was about five foot, seven inches tall.

She wore a dark blue wool sweater, believed to be a high school letter sweater with a large "W" on the back, a tennis racket and the numerals "18" on it. She also was clad in a light blue muscle shirt, white pants, brown socks and tan suede shoes.

She wore a gold chain ring with "Brown High Rebels 71" on it.

Troopers said she had a gold tooth inlay in an upper left incisor tooth.

The body is being held at an East St. Louis funeral home pending identification. Persons having information who could assist the investigation are being urged to contact the state police, toll free, at 345-1212.

1963 AUTO STOLEN
Elaine Harper, 14 Nicholas Drive, reported at 10 p.m. Friday that her 1963 auto was stolen from the Calvary Baptist Church parking lot.

The financial dilemma comes at a time when the City Council is preparing to begin negotiation of new wage contracts with officials of unions representing city employees.

City Finance Chairman Gerald Parnley already has given the council members a tentative budget draft which indicates that a salary increase of any size this year may send the total budget over the $6 million mark.

HEADON COLLISION
A head-on collision at 12:40 a.m. Saturday, one-half mile north of Bend Road on Illinois State Route 203, resulted in injury to the driver of one vehicle, Donald R. Lantry, 24, of 2215 Washington Ave. He was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital suffering cuts and bruises to the forehead. The driver of the other vehicle, James D. Taylor, St. Louis, was not injured.

Hearings

$82,240, a decrease of $90 from last year's $83,180 budget. The general assistance budget is up from $74,652 last year to $82,240, a 10 percent increase.

Illinois Municipal Retirement from the town fund totals $17,650, up $7,400 from Illinois State Route 203, resulted in injury to the driver of one vehicle, Donald R. Lantry, 24, of 2215 Washington Ave. He was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital suffering cuts and bruises to the forehead. The driver of the other vehicle, James D. Taylor, St. Louis, was not injured.

Expenditures for general road projects are up from $50,800 in 1973 to $69,500 in the tentative budget.

Specific expenditures anticipated for the 1974-75 fiscal year include $9,900 for administration, down from $14,600 last year, and $3,000 for construction of roads, up from $1,400 last year.

No provisions have been made in the tentative budget for operation of bridges, an item for which $200 was authorized last year.

Total of $26,500 is budgeted for maintenance of roads, up from $11,000 last year.

Another $3,500 is provided for operation and maintenance of machinery, up from $1,000 in the previous budget.

An additional $2,500 was provided for maintenance and operation of machinery for the laying of roads last year, an item which is combined in the over all total this year. Another $4,000 was provided last year for repairs to machinery, trucks and graders.

The board proposes budgeting $3,000 for purchases of machinery and equipment, an item not in last year's road and bridge budget.

Another new category is for repair and maintenance to buildings in which $1,500 was placed in the new document because of the new garage the township plans to build.

Another item in last year's budget which was included in other categories this year was prevention, budgeted at $1,500 last year, including $200 for the operation of equipment.

The tentative budget includes a $1,000 provision for contingencies, double the $500 in the previous budget.

Equipment purchases and repairs are included in separate fund budgets with $1,000 earmarked for equipment purchases and $4,000 for repairs to machinery, a fund total of $5,000. Last year's equipment and building fund totaled $6,000, including $5,000 for machinery and equipment repairs and $1,000 for acquisition of new machinery and equipment.

The total for the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund is unchanged at $5,000.

Chouteau and Nameoki town fund budgets are for considered later in the year.

Annual town meetings in the Quad-Cities are set for April 9, which also will be the date of the Granite City Township budget hearing.

Tourism resorts urged
The state Department of Business and Economic Developing (BED) last week announced the beginning of a massive effort to encourage tourism resort development in Illinois.
Howard R. Fricke, director, said the effort is being initiated because "we realize the economic importance of the travel industry and believe that Illinois, with proper development, can be in an excellent position to bring more travel-related income into the state."
Viewing some indicators, Fricke said, "has led us to hope that the energy shortage might place the Midwest in an advantageous position regarding tourism."
"Midwesterners, we believe, will start looking closer to home for vacation destinations. Our central location, coupled with the diversity of our attractions, could make Illinois an unusually attractive tourism destination."
Even when increased quantities of gasoline are available, Fricke continued, the pattern of close-to-home travel should be encouraged. Moreover, the state will be in a better position to convince travelers to vacation in Illinois if more resort and recreational facilities exist.
He is forming a departmental committee, chaired by BED Deputy Director Edward Bishop, to coordinate the department's activities related to resort development. Other committee members include the chief of the Industrial Development Division, the chief of the Community Development Division and Michael Linderman, who heads the Division of Tourism.
Driver hurt in three-car crash
A three car rear-end chain collision at 11:16 a.m. Saturday, at Illinois Route 111 and Pontoon Road, caused the injury of Mary Niebrzydski, 48, Florissant, Mo., the driver of one of the cars. She was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with injuries to her abdomen and left shoulder.
Pontoon Beach police said an auto driven by Carl Dowdy, 5 Westgate Drive, Pontoon Beach, stopped suddenly to avoid striking a skidding auto, and was struck from the rear by the Niebrzydski vehicle, which in turn was hit by an auto driven by Joseph Channess, Wood River.
BOYS ARRESTED
Three juveniles were charged with disorderly conduct by Madison Juvenile Officer William Fanning Thursday afternoon after they were apprehended in possession of marijuana in the physical education room at Madison High School. The boys were released on their own recognizance to appear for hearing April 12.
IN INTENSIVE CARE
Wills H. Grigaby, 54, of 3819 John Glenn Drive, Pontoon Beach, was admitted to the intensive care unit of St. Elizabeth Hospital at 8:55 a.m. Saturday after Pontoon Beach Police found him lying in the snow beside his automobile on the parking lot at Gaslight Shopping Center. He reportedly was suffering from exposure.

South athletes are honored at ceremony

Granite City basketball and wrestling fans braved the cold rain and snow Wednesday to honor young athletes at a winter sports banquet and awards ceremonies at Granite City High School South, at which the school district's athletic director Joe Fedora was the master-of-ceremonies.

Before introducing the coaches, Fedora said, "Of the many people who need credit for the success of our athletic program here, we owe a great deal of gratitude to the parents who provide us with the young athletes."

Warrior cage mentor Bryan Wilkinson told the audience, "Tradition has it that winners do the talking and losers are supposed to keep quiet. We had a difficult season, but I feel our players kept a good attitude, worked hard, and held their heads high."

"Therefore," Wilkinson concluded, "we are bragging, because when we lost 20 consecutive games and then won our 21st, I don't think we are losers."

Wilkinson presented school letter awards to seniors: Mike Martinez and Tom Schooley; juniors: Ken Bertrand, Kirk Champion and Bob Hutchings and sophomores Jim Nolan and Rick Fancher.

Honorable mention was given to senior Mike Mezo, juniors Dave Naglich, Tim Dillard, Alan Miller, and freshman Dave Rhodes.

Rhodes was the recipient of the coveted outstanding freshman award.

"In the last season game against Belleville East," related Wilkinson, "we put Dave into the game in the fourth quarter and he scored 14 points."

The most improved player citation was given to Schooley, the player with the most season rebounds trophy was presented to Bertrand for recovering 173, and the most valuable player award recipient was three-year letterman Martinez.

Wrestling mentor William Schmitt, before introducing his team members, complimented South's cagers, saying, "In my estimation, when the Warriors defeated the North Steelers, Coach Wilkinson and his squad won the Granite City School District championship.

"So I take great honor," continued Schmitt, "in presenting the North vs. South game ball, which has engraved on it 'Granite City School District Champions, 1974' to the basketball team."

In speaking of his wrestling team, Schmitt remarked, "With wrestling so nearly equalized in the state of Illinois, breaks have a lot to do with success or defeat."

"We had the right breaks in capturing the sectional meet here, then we lost them in the state meet, but in all my years of coaching at this school, we would have to search high and low to find a scrappier and more determined bunch of matmen than we had this season."

After presenting school letters and individual achievement awards to his wrestlers, Schmitt told the audience, "These are the wrestlers of the number one team in Southern Illinois."

Special individual citations were presented to: junior Woody Halbrook for having pinned more opponents than any other wrestler this season; junior Brian Wilson as the team's outstanding state tournament performer; John Niebur as the most outstanding senior wrestler, and undefeated Jim Carmody as the outstanding freshman.

Receiving school letters were: seniors Tony Burich, John Avedisian, Dave Rushing, Dan Heath, Pat MacMillan, Don

The program was highlighted with the presentation of the most prestigious awards which are bestowed upon school's athletes each year.

The new Lawrence McCauley Outstanding Sophomore Wrestler Memorial Award was presented for the first time by Jerry Patterson the recipient; the Ray "Hap" Duncan Free Throw cage award bestowed upon Bob Hutchings, and Jim Nolan was the recipient of the Cameron VanBuskirk Outstanding Sophomore basketball player plaque.

Mrs. Ruth Klaus, sponsor of the school's cheerleaders, presented the Miss School Spirit Award to Miss Christina Phillip for her support and inspiration to the school's sports program.

Tennis season to open here

The GCHS North tennis squad, with first-year coach John VanBuskirk at the helm, will open the area's 1974 season Wednesday with a 4 p.m. home meet against Belleville East at Wilson Park.

VanBuskirk, with four years of college tennis among his credentials, told the Press-Record, "We have some promising young players anxious to compete, two of whom are lettermen from GCHS South, senior Paul Cook and junior Nick Poplichak."

Of the 15 athletes competing for starting spots, five are seniors, six juniors and four sophomores.

"I have not had a chance to see the freshmen practice yet," said the head mentor, "but I am certain we will pick up a few more there."

Snow jeopardizes opening of baseball season today

Today's opening of the 1974 high school baseball season was in doubt due to snow and ice on the diamonds. GCHS South was scheduled to compete at 4 p.m. today at Roxana to open the new season, but South's athletic coordinator said, "It is doubtful the game will be played because of field conditions and cold temperatures."

Hope to expand state role in fighting organized crime

Director Harvey N. Johnson Jr. of the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement and Superintendent Wayne A. Kersetter of the Illinois Bureau of Investigation on Thursday announced a reorganization of the Illinois Bureau of Investigation (IBI).

A major step is the beefing up and expansion of the Organized Crime Division to increase the effectiveness of the IBI's organized crime enforcement efforts throughout the state.

In order to strengthen its management structure, the IBI has asked the U. S. Department of Justice to provide two senior federal law enforcement administrators with expertise in the areas of organized crime and narcotics.

If this request is granted, these officials would be assigned to the IBI for a period of at least a year under terms of the U. S. Inter-Governmental Personnel Act.

These steps are being taken after a joint evaluation by Director Johnson and Supt. Kersetter together with a Washington, D. C., management consulting firm, Cressap, McCormick and Paget.

This study praised the work of the IBI, saying, "We wish to underscore our assessment that the Bureau has achieved a notable impact in the state and has developed an unusual degree of competence in several key investigation fields. Bright prospects exist for the Bureau to make a unique and significantly greater contribution to law enforcement throughout Illinois."

The study adds that

"knowledgeable observers cite the Bureau's lack of seasoned leadership, especially in middle management and field supervisory positions, as a major weakness."

The study further indicates that many in the Bureau's middle management complement are regarded as obstacles to the achievement of Bureau objectives by many of their subordinates.

The study also concludes that the IBI is overextended and suggests a narrowing of the scope of the Bureau's efforts. But it urges an increased IBI intelligence program regarding organized crime and narcotics traffic. The study recommends improvements in the management information and administrative systems of the agency.

Endangered species law requires permits for skins, rugs, clothing

Enforcement of the Endangered Species Act will begin March 31, according to Tony Dean, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation.

The act prohibits possession of animals or parts of animals in danger of extinction, except those registered and secured by permit with the department.

After the March 31 deadline, articles not registered will be subject to seizure, Dean said. The law also bans transfer or sale of these items once registered.

"Persons who possess skins, rugs, furniture, articles of clothing or any other products made from rare and endangered animal species should write to the department for an application for the free permit," Dean said. "Citizens need only declare their items to obtain the permit."

Dean said enforcement provisions of the act will be directed toward commercial trade, including wholesalers, retailers and suppliers, and not against the ordinary citizen.

Products covered by the act include fur, hide, skin, teeth, feathers, tusks, claws or any other part of an animal protected by law. Permits must be obtained for all animals on the endangered species list.

A few of the more commonly owned species are: leopard, snow leopard, clouded leopard, tiger, cheetah, alligator, cayman, crocodile, vicuña, red and gray wolf, polar bear, mountain lion or cougar, ocelot, margay, kit fox, Pacific Ridley turtle and green turtle. Permit application forms may be obtained from: Illinois Department of Conservation, Division of Wildlife Resources, Vernon Kleen, 605 State Office Building, Springfield, Ill., 62706.

Rail abandonment in state assailed

A federal plan to abandon 2,650 miles of railroad track in Illinois could mean economic hardship for many businesses, manufacturers and farmers, the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce warned Friday.

In a wire to the Interstate Commerce Commission, Lester W. Brann Jr., president of the 19,000-member statewide business organization, said the State Chamber has heard from a number of angry Illinois businessmen, particularly small firms, who expressed concern that "a loss of rail access will put us right out of business."

As provided by the far-reaching Regional Rail Reorganization Act of 1973, the U. S. Department of Transportation has called for restructuring rail service in the Midwest and Northeast, including possible abandonment of about 25 per cent of Illinois railroad trackage as "potentially excess."

Brann summarized, "What's

'excess' to some Washington bureaucrats" may be the economic lifeblood of a community or small business in Downstate Illinois.

"While we strongly favor improving railroad operations to make them more efficient and profitable, it's economically unsound to eliminate trackage at the expense of untold numbers of jobs affecting entire communities."

Before any steps are taken in this direction, the IOC should develop economic impact figures on each area of the state where trackage elimination is proposed, Brann said. The State Chamber will submit a formal statement outlining its position to the commission this week.

Fewer tent caterpillars

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Lawn and Garden Advisor
Tent Caterpillars are relatively scarce this year. During the past two years caterpillar colonies were so numerous that two or three colonies appeared in favored trees, such as flowering plum, wild cherry and flowering crab.

Tent caterpillars are just hatching. Even though the insect population is down from last year one colony can still ruin the effects of an ornamental tree. Make this year the one to have perfect control. One spray application of Carbaryl, Malathion or Bacillus T.

will knock out the entire colony, especially when the worms are small. Carefully spray the branches and foliage near the nest instead of concentrating on the nest.

Late March is not too early to plant gladioli if you appreciate a steady supply of flowers from July through September. A new planting every two weeks until late June will produce quality flowers until frost.

If you grow gladioli for cut flowers plant the corns in double rows or beds. Gladioli in a double row are spaced 5 to 6 inches apart in the same row. In beds they are spaced 5 to 6 inches apart each way.

If you enjoy gladioli as specimens, sprinkle each successive planting among your perennials. Locate each bulb as individuals or small clusters in full sunlight and well drained soil.

The best depth to plant is determined by the soil and size of the corns. Large corns should be planted about 4 inches deep in heavy soil. Smaller sizes should be planted shallower.

Flowering crabapples are a new breed of ornamental crabapple compared with the profusion of apples and poor foliage many remember.

Continued quality of bloom is joined by disease resistance for better foliage, emphasis on miniature apples that never fall and a wide range of sizes. The quality of bloom of such old varieties as Eleyi and Hopa are still hard to match but diseased foliage ruins their summer appearance. A family of new varieties are all disease resistant to produce quality summer foliage. Several varieties on the market, including the varieties Royalty and Lemon have purplish-red foliage.

Emphasis of new varieties have shifted to those with small persistent fruit. Cherry-sized apples in shades of red, purple and yellow that cling all winter are the rule rather than the exception. Spring migrating birds like robins, cedar waxwings and finches along with wintering mockingbirds find the shriveling apples a gourmet's delight.

A fantastic range of trees from runts like the 8' tall sargent to giants like the 30' radiant give us a beautiful choice of sizes for many situations. When these sizes range from the weeping character of "Red Jade," the pancake shaped "Carmine" to vase shaped "Van Eseltine," there seems a choice of color, shape and size to fit every situation.

If you would like to review the qualities of a few choice varieties, write or call our office, "Cooperative Extension Service, University of Illinois Belleville at 116 S. Charles, phone 232-1471 or Edwardsville at 900 Hillsboro, phone 656-7299, for a copy of "Flowering Crabapples in the Home Landscape."

An honorary organization for women educators, The Delta Kappa Gamma Society was founded May 11, 1923 in Austin, Tex., by 12 dedicated women educators led by Dr. Annie Webb Blanton of the University of Texas.

One of the founders was Dr. Helen L. Koch, a noted child psychologist, who the past year received the society's international achievement award.

Presently, there are more than 2,400 chapters in 50 states, the District of Columbia, six provinces of Canada, also Norway, Sweden and Mexico, with a total membership of over 120,000.

In Illinois there are 86 chapters, totaling more than 6,000 members.

Mrs. Stevens explained that The Delta Kappa Gamma Society is concerned with assisting women educators toward better professional preparation, fairer recognition of women's work in the teaching profession, endowing scholarships to aid outstanding women educators from other countries.

Student athletes lead area MS drive

Students from many Quad-City public and parochial schools will lead the "Tag Days Campaign" for the Multiple Sclerosis Society, scheduled to take place here Friday and Saturday, Mrs. Leonard B. (Hilda) Davis, area chairman, said today.

Mrs. Davis announced Jim Hart, quarterback for the St. Louis Football Cardinals, is heading the drive for the St. Louis Area MS Chapter, which provides services to multiple sclerosis victims in Southern Illinois and Eastern Missouri.

Hart, assisted by several Cardinal football players, members of the St. Louis Soccer Stars and the St. Louis Hockey Blues, is continuing this week to visit area high schools, junior highs and parochial schools, Mrs. Davis said.

Purpose of the professional athletes' personal appearances in communities in Madison and St. Clair counties is to encourage young people, especially teenage athletes, to help in the fund-raising drive.

Theme of the 1974 campaign is "Athletes vs. MS." "Multiple Sclerosis is a mysterious crippling disease that all too often strikes the young adult, generally between the ages of 20 and 40," the local chairman said.

According to the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, an estimated 500,000 Americans and millions more around the world are affected by MS and closely related disorders, she explained.

Student council members from both Granite City High School North and South, together with student-athletes and other pupils from Prather, Coolidge and Grigsby Junior High Schools, Madison and Venice public schools and St. Joseph, St. Margaret Mary, St. Mark's, St. Elizabeth, St. Mary's and Sacred Heart parochial schools will be taking part in the drive in this weekend's drive, Mrs. Davis reported.

The Cardinal quarterback, accompanied by pro athletes and coaches from other sports, is recruiting youthful volunteers to aid in the campaign. Tags will be offered passersby Friday and Saturday at area shopping centers and at downtown locations in Granite City, Madison and Venice, the local drive chairman said.

THE SCHERMER BULLETIN
Well folks, the "streakin'" sale was a big success. We even ran out of neck bones on Wednesday. It was probably our best Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday that we have ever had. Thanks for coming. Now, the most important event this week is the Shrine Blood Bank. It will be held TOMORROW. Don't forget. The time is 2 to 7 p.m. and the place is the Norsemei Methodist Church on Pontoon Road. It is the second church east of the Norfolk Grade School, easy to find and plenty of parking space. If you haven't volunteered it is not too late. Just come on out and we will take good care of you. Everyone who donates is covered for one year whether he is a Shriner or not. The coverage includes your child, living or home as well as your parents and grandparents on both sides. THE BIG PLUS IN THE DRIVE IS THAT ANY BURNED CHILD FROM THIS AREA, THAT THE SHRINE SENDS TO CINCINNATI FOR TREATMENT, WILL RECEIVE ALL THE BLOOD FROM THIS BANK THAT HE NEEDS. We can tell from past experience that some of these kiddies require as much as 20 or 30 pints. So you, if you participate, will be doing a real service for our brothers who know who can. We'll appreciate mention this drive to someone you know who can. We'll appreciate We did talk to the St. Louis Office of the Red Cross and they told us that Blood is in unusually short supply; they are running from almost a day to day basis and they wanted to know how many donors we would have. We couldn't say exactly but we have to have well over 100. Help us with this drive. Thank you.

Harris-Sager wedding at First Assembly of God

Miss Gwendolyn Anne Sager and Howard Patrick Harris were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock Friday, at the First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Avenue.

The Rev. Eugene Cope, pastor of City Temple Church, officiated at the evening candlelight ceremony.

Organist Miss Deborah Bennett and guitarist Ed Bauman accompanied the bride as she sang "If I Were a Rich Man."

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Bachelor, 1561 South Jackson St., Tacoma, Wash. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Harris Jr., 2932 Washington Ave., 2932 Washington Ave.

For her wedding, the former Miss Sager wore a full length gown designed with a beaded lace bodice, featuring a high neckline and long, full sleeves cut in matching lace.

Her very full skirt was encircled with a ruffled flounce and extended into a cathedral length train.

She wore a lace headpiece etched with pearls to secure an elbow length veil and she carried a bouquet of white roses and gardenia.

Mrs. Donald Harris, the groom's sister-in-law, was matron of honor and Miss Linda Thompson, a cousin of the groom, was bridesmaid.

They wore identical formal length dresses in aqua, fashioned with lace bodices and flared skirts. Each attendant wore a white lace hat accented with aqua ribbons and held a bouquet of aqua and pink carnations.

The groom chose his brothers, Larry and Donald Harris, as best man and groomsmen, respectively. Robert Karandjeff and Lloyd Watts served as ushers.

A reception was given immediately following the service in the church Fellowship Hall. Members of the wedding party attended a rehearsal dinner at Riedel's Restaurant in Edwardsville.

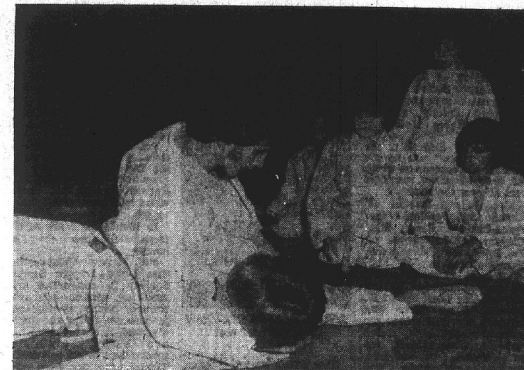

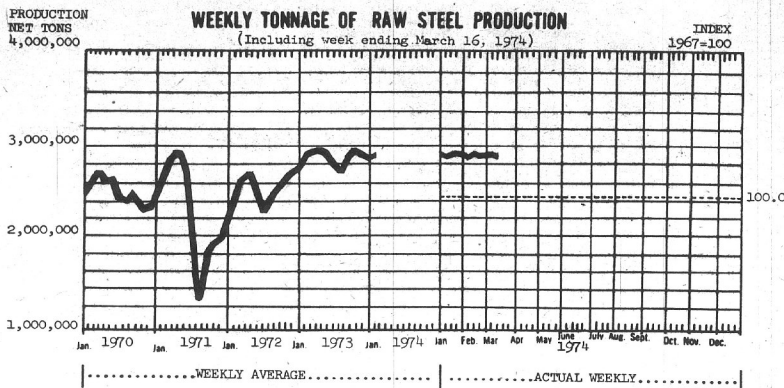

The bride is a student in piano performance at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She also teaches private piano lessons in Granite City.

Mr. Harris, a 1964 graduate of Granite City High School, was graduated in 1968 from SIUE with a B.S. degree in business administration. He is employed by the Illinois Department of Labor, Division of Unemployment Compensation.

After a wedding trip, the newly married couple will reside in Granite City.

If Quad-Cities are to retain a two-party system, Republicans will need to begin a concentrated rebuilding effort in all 61 precincts

It is no secret that the Republican party is in the minority in the Quad-Cities and Madison County, and that it has been outnumbered for several decades except for a few dramatic election victories.

Nor is there much doubt that the Grand Old Party is in a serious decline nationally following its smashing victory in 49 of the 50 states in the November 1972 Presidential election. Watergate scandals, inflation and the energy crisis are mentioned most often as the causes.

Nevertheless, last week's primary election underscored the fact that Republicans statistically are becoming scarce in the Quad-Cities.

Even allowing for the fact that many GOP voters "crossed over" to have a voice in spirited Democratic primary battles, the figures show a remarkable edge for the party of Jefferson, Jackson and Johnson.

Democratic ballots led Republican votes 12,960-717 in the Quad-Cities March 19, including 6,985-420 in Granite City, 2,813-139 in Nameoki Township, 2,439-111 in Venice Township and 1,615-117 in Chouteau Township.

Granite City Precincts 1-32 recorded Democratic-Republican margins of 81-5, 43-2, 101-5, 117-4, 96-7, 112-6, 92-9, 175-5, 127-7, 302-16, 243-13, 149-14, 167-11, 301-16, 106-13, 178-17, 421-43, 190-15, 294-10, 198-14, 159-13, 144-16, 317-26, 109-18, 116-3, 162-16, 163-11, 353-21, 287-10, 95-11, 276-27 and 34-16.

Nameoki Precincts 1-11 reported tallies of 209-12, 247-7, 227-14, 273-17, 242-9, 394-28, 228-19, 225-2, 387-16, 105-4 and 280-11.

Occupancy permit an unpopular plan unless benefits are clearly shown

Despite the fact that the City of Granite City is running short of money and worrying how to avoid payless paydays this spring, citizens are not reacting gleefully to a proposal to "upgrade housing standards," placed on first reading by the City Council last week.

The procedure for occupancy permits would not only involve a lot of time-consuming "red tape" but would cost $2 for a permit and $15 for an inspection each time a home or apartment changes occupants, a frequent occurrence.

If the plan truly can curb substandard living conditions, it might be that officials can justify the proposal.

But if it is primarily a device to provide funds for inspectors and/or the city coffers, it appears likely to be a highly unpopular piece of municipal legislation.

It might be helpful if proponents and opponents present their reasoning in greater detail before there is a final decision.

In the first through eleventh precincts of Venice Township (Venice-Madison), the Democratic-Republican vote totals were 258-8, 273-5, 127-4, 219-2, 435-3, 253-5, 279-5, 358-0, 301-3, 20-2 and 219-4.

Chouteau Precincts 1-7 reported 327-13, 233-15, 187-18, 292-30, 197-5, 223-8 and 154-28.

There are perhaps other communities where the reverse preference provides an equally sharp contrast. But it would appear that this area and county—if there is to be a flourishing two-party system—needs to begin major rebuilding from the grassroots level.

Complicating the task is the sparsity of avowed Republican voters and the absence of party committeemen in a number of precincts. The number of fully active GOP committeemen is even scarcer.

At least part of the problem in some past instances may have been party functionaries who did not make whether the GOP is genuinely healthy, or who had given up hopes of achieving local party strength, as long as they could retain a voice in federal and state patronage.

The latter assumption is disputed by some, and in any case Republicans have left themselves in a reasonably good post-primary position by nominating capable candidates for three Madison County offices as well as for the two statewide posts to be decided in November.

Madison County Board membership from the Quad-Cities, however, remains a subject on which Republicans have "retired from the field of battle," at least for the foreseeable future.

Just because you don't find a parking meter right in front of the store you want to shop in, you say to yourself Granite City. Turn left or right and go no more than one block and there are places.

Those who go to St. Louis park sometimes three or four blocks away and think nothing of it.

I'm talking about every kind of retail business there possibly is—groceries, furniture, clothing, shoes, cleaners, doctors, dentists, lawyers, insurance, real estate and beauty shops. I could go on and on.

Did you ever consider a doctor or lawyer as a retail business? For instance, a doctor. You're selling yourself, your knowledge and ability as medicine for the people of Granite City, but do your families shop here? Take all to achieve any notable success in this bid to outdo Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley as the top Democratic politician in the State.

The Daley machine performed about as usual in agreement that if Daley decides to go for a sixth term as mayor next year, he's almost as good as elected.

What hopes Walker may have had about achieving a more friendly legislature for the 1975 session appear to have been partly dashed. Even should Democrats win control of the House and Senate in November, most lawmakers will have to be classified as Daley or regular organization, rather than Walker men.

A surprise in the election statewide was the victory of Springfield's Harry Page in the Republican race for state treasurer.

Observers at the Statehouse thought a big turnout in Chicago and the Cook county suburbs, in contrast to a small one in Springfield, would assure the election of Jeannette H. Mullen of Barrington.

Page, however, did far better than expected in Chicago and the Cook county suburbs, in contrast to a small one in Springfield, would assure the election of Jeannette H. Mullen of Barrington.

Quad-City shopping expands job base

To the Editor:
Reader, do you or your husband or wife make his or her money in Granite City or the Quad-Cities? Now, do you spend it in Granite City?

I realize there are exceptions at times, but stop and think as you read. You, your family, your relative or neighbor may have never thought of this, but I hope you do now and tell others to read this. Remember, I said there were exceptions at times. Shop in Granite City. You do not have to run across the river to find bargains, quality or selections. They are right here.

Go downtown, shop and you'll see for yourself. Now if you're thinking there's no place to shop, it is true there could be more, but they are working on that. But did you know the banks have provided lots only a half block away from the Downtown area?

Just because you don't find a parking meter right in front of the store you want to shop in, you say to yourself Granite City. Turn left or right and go no more than one block and there are places.

Those who go to St. Louis park sometimes three or four blocks away and think nothing of it.

I'm talking about every kind of retail business there possibly is—groceries, furniture, clothing, shoes, cleaners, doctors, dentists, lawyers, insurance, real estate and beauty shops. I could go on and on.

Did you ever consider a doctor or lawyer as a retail business? For instance, a doctor. You're selling yourself, your knowledge and ability as medicine for the people of Granite City, but do your families shop here? Take all your Granite City patients or clients away and what would happen to you and your family? Another example is a salesperson in a furniture or clothing store, or the checker in a supermarket, or the operator in a beauty shop.

You're just working for your employer, but do you realize if you are not pleasant, helpful, courteous and do your job well, customers will not stop there and then you have no job.

Without customers, patients and clients, we do not need a town. Some people here do keep their money right here, and return, spend your money with them. Whatever business you're in, owner or employee, take away your Quad-City customers, and your business or your employers' business would have to close.

There are probably at least 70 per cent of your customers that have something to do with a business right here. Even if it's not her or her husband's it might be relative's business.

In return, she is bringing her money to you in Granite City. She returns her kindness and shop with her right here.

You might be the one right now who says "I never shop here—I go to St. Louis." Maybe you do for clothing and furniture or even groceries, but how would you like it if everything would close and you would have to go to St. Louis?

Now, you're thinking that would be all right with you. But you're also just thinking of a few businesses.

What if you had to go to St. Louis every week to have your hair cut? Or to just buy a loaf of bread? A bottle of aspirin, a pair of shoes, school paper? That all may sound silly, but without you shopping here this could very easily happen. Why do you go to St. Louis to eat? Granite City has restaurants and a cafeteria. They, in turn, should turn around and shop here, too.

You know, if businesses would have to move, then we would need no schools or churches, and then what would happen to the teachers and ministers? No jobs. So, teachers and those affiliated with churches should shop here at home.

Those who read the Press-Record carefully see many bargains, nice quality, name brands and specialized services here.

If you have a business, advertise. If you belong to an organization, submit your news. When the Press-Record advertises' business increases, it means more jobs for local people.

Banks operate here for Quad-City residents as well as businesses. They hire many employees and aid the local economy.

Don't forget our park facilities, bowling alleys, golf courses, YMAA and other recreation centers. They have employees, too, and need people's support. I could go on and on, not just for the owners of any business but for their employees.

More businesses could open, and provide more jobs, if more local residents and workers would do more of their buying here.

If everyone spent his money here, there would be many more jobs. Let's be proud of the Quad-City area and continue to make it a great place to shop and live.

College—student success as well as bricks, mortar

By H. J. HABERACKER

President, Belleville Area College

I am announcing my retirement as president of Belleville Area College effective Aug. 31, 1974. Having reached my 60th birthday last November, I intend to slow down from my present hectic pace and devote more time to my family as well as other activities which have interested me but which I have had little time to pursue.

Announcing my plans to retire five months prior to leaving office gives you sufficient time to choose a replacement and provide for an orderly transition of duties.

The Quad-Cities are scheduled to become part of BAC effective July 1. When I came to Belleville 12 years ago there were many challenges facing education in this community. The question of building a second high school alone consumed junior college campus had just been turned down by the voters.

Many people were clamoring to close the college and build a smaller campus by presenting a smaller bond issue that the voters would more likely accept.

A truly dedicated board of education supported by a handful of dedicated citizens made the decision to resubmit the bond issue, which passed in February 1963.

The extensive curriculum development at both East and West High Schools has been a source of personal satisfaction. However, having seen the college develop from a limited curriculum and a couple of World War II barracks buildings to what it is today exceeds any expectations anyone could have hoped for.

For over 10 years Belleville College is a quality institution in its own right. It provides a comprehensive program consisting of a baccalaureate transfer program, over 37 occupational programs, a large general studies program as well as community service programs for the citizens of the district.

The completion of Phase II, scheduled for September 1974, as well as the Student Activities Center will complete most of the construction planned for today, with the exception of the permanent gymnasium.

Initially, the local money is on hand to complete this project together with all the plans and only needs the release of state funds.

Although the foundation has been laid for a strong community college, there are a number of issues that the Board of Trustees and new administration will need to address themselves to.

The recent proposed annexation of territory to the college district will require careful planning and even more careful implementation to serve the needs of the people joining the district. Any new program development will have to be on a very selective basis.

You don't serve people well when you develop programs that, down the road, break the district's financial back.

Recent events in other community colleges, universities and school districts should forewarn you of the consequences of poor fiscal management and short-sighted planning on the part of boards and administrators.

I shall be leaving the college in the "black" financially and with a broadly expanded tax base. I hope it will continue to remain so.

Limited staff expansion will be necessary in a few areas as enrollments show some growth; however, you must remember that enrollments at the community college level of full-time students have shown signs of stabilizing.

Increasing the staff to too fast a rate will only lead to forced resignations and enrollment will stabilize or decline, and will lead to alienation of the faculty.

I am grateful for the fine management and support I have received. This is an outstanding community. It has responded when asked for financial support. And when you have a total headcount enrollment of almost 7,000 people, it is an indication of community support for what is being offered. I thank every member of the news media I have been privileged to work with. They are hard working people entrusted with great responsibility and they have tried to report honestly and as they saw them the many activities with which I have been associated. I have been careful to be honest with them and I appreciate their honesty in dealing with me.

No one realizes more than I do that the success of any person or institution is due to the many people who make it successful. Our instructional deans have selected good faculty members who are well qualified in their fields.

Our administrative staff is not only well qualified but dedicated to excellence. The fact that we have a smaller administrative staff than colleges of similar size in this state has meant we have expected more from them and they have responded well.

One former administrative staff member has already been selected as the president of a large college, and I confidently predict we have other administrative staff members who will advance in the profession.

Our para-professional staff members, secretaries, engineers, maintenance and custodial staff members have taken pride in their work and have always come through when we have asked them for service over and above the normal call of duty.

The 100 per cent dedication of my secretary, Mrs. Helle, and our efficient board secretary, Mrs. Groves, can't be adequately expressed by anyone. To the many lay people who have served or are serving as members of our various citizens advisory committees, I express a special thank you.

There is one group of people that has earned my deepest respect and admiration. They are the many dedicated teachers who have worked with in the past 34 years as their administrator. Never have I had a dishonest one.

They have given freely of their time, offered wise counsel and guidance and more than any other group, looked at the total educational picture objectively.

I am particularly appreciative of the men and women who have served on the Board of Trustees since the formation of the Class I district.

Anyone who thinks this is a "young" Board of Trustees doesn't know what he is talking about. I, more than anyone else, know that the college would be what it is today without the truly dedicated members of the board we have had.

In my opinion, they have never made a decision that didn't place students and the welfare of the total college as the number one priority. Any student of "boardsmanship" knows this is the highest tribute one could earn as a member of the Board of Trustees.

Bricks and mortar, educational program development, good teaching and all the rest are important and help make it possible or at least possible to have good schools.

However, the joy of seeing student success over shadows all the rest.

When you work with young people there will always be some who disappoint you; but most will make you happy to be a part of their lives, and be able to know them and give them a little help along the way is gratifying.

Too many people overlook success of our young people and make a "mountain" out of their shortcomings.

Helping someone everybody thinks is a sure failure—and seeing that person develop into a successful, responsible citizen—is the greatest source of joy I have had in the 34 years of my administrative career.

We have a fine student body and I have been impressed with the scholarship and interest in the college. The addition of student member to the Board of Trustees this year exhibits this real dedication and concern.

State comment—Politics are still unpredictable

By KEN WATSON

Press-Record

In an era of rapid and unceasing change, there is still one sure thing about politics. It's unpredictable.

That was the reaction at the Statehouse as strategists surveyed the results of the primary election and began assessing its impact on the November campaign.

Attention was diverted temporarily from the "big picture" as symbolic tests were shed for the upset defeats of such veteran and popular legislators as Sen. Hudson Sours of Peoria and Rep. W. J. Bingo Murphy of Antioch, both Republicans.

Sours was among the dignified prototype of a Yale Law School graduate, but he was recognized as the most erudite member of the Senate and the only current member of the legislature capable of extensively quoting Shakespeare.

Murphy, who could always be relied on to enliven a dull afternoon in the House, liked to relate that he was "purged" from the House in the 1960s by no less than current U.S. Sen. Charles H. Percy, but came back to win re-election and achieve a leadership post.

Comments were heard that Gov. Daniel Walker failed to achieve any notable success in this bid to outdo Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley as the top Democratic politician in the State.

The Daley machine performed about as usual in agreement that if Daley decides to go for a sixth term as mayor next year, he's almost as good as elected.

What hopes Walker may have had about achieving a more friendly legislature for the 1975 session appear to have been partly dashed. Even should Democrats win control of the House and Senate in November, most lawmakers will have to be classified as Daley or regular organization, rather than Walker men.

A surprise in the election statewide was the victory of Springfield's Harry Page in the Republican race for state treasurer.

Observers at the Statehouse thought a big turnout in Chicago and the Cook county suburbs, in contrast to a small one in Springfield, would assure the election of Jeannette H. Mullen of Barrington.

1,500 entertained at Winter Carnival

Nameoki signal bid too high

Nine of 11 bids opened for state highway projects at Springfield last week—including one for modification of the traffic signal system at Madison Avenue and Nameoki Road—were in excess of 5 per cent over cost estimates, the Department of Transportation reported.

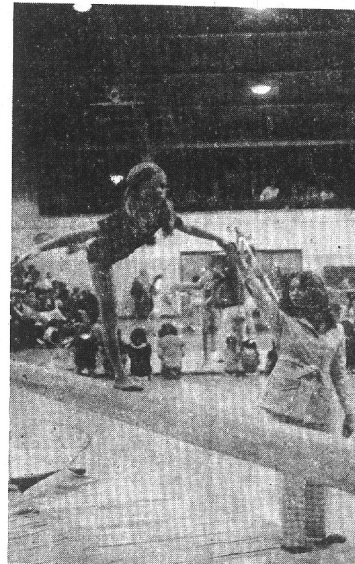

Two bids were less than state estimates and were classified as awardable, engineers said. The state normally does not award contracts on jobs where bids are more than 5 per cent over the estimate.

The bid for the traffic signal revision at Madison Avenue and Nameoki Road was submitted by R. Dron Electric Co. at $24,695, which is 6.3 per cent above the estimate.

In another project for traffic signal modernization in Collinsville, the Dron electric firm was the lone bidder with an offer of $39,996 which was 13 per cent above the estimate.

Venice studies state meet ticket problem

Confusion over arrangements for a trip to last weekend's finals of the Class A high school basketball tournament brought a dozen parents and fans to the Venice Board of Education meeting here last week.

Red Devil supporters criticized not getting tickets for last Saturday's finals of the Class A tourney. They said this forced cancellation of a bus trip planned by parents as a reward for the school's players, cheerleaders and team managers.

Relatives of players said the trip was arranged after the Devils were eliminated at the supersectional in Charleston last week. Venice lost 85-97 to Lawrenceville, the team that eventually won the Class A title.

Parents collected $500 from area businessmen and others to charter a bus and purchase tickets for 44 players, cheerleaders and others. Funds for tickets were given to a faculty member who escorted four senior team members to Campaign Thursday to view the tourney, the group said.

Supt. John O. Pier said the teacher was unable to get the tickets and called with the information, resulting in cancellation of the bus. It was learned that tickets are returned by teams losing in Friday's quarterfinal games and placed on sale Saturday morning.

Poor communications and the fact that no one appeared to have the complete story on arrangements or alternatives were cited by school administrators for the mixup.

Leo Davinoy, board president, said the board was not involved in making ticket arrangements or scheduling the bus trip. He said a meeting will be arranged between parents, players and school officials to delve further into the complaints.

In other action, Supt. Pier reported receipt of $69,552, the final settlement in 1972-73 taxes.

Financial transactions included transfer of $49,939 from working cash to education, with the same amount returned to the original fund, and transfer of $3,500 from Venice Lincoln Technical Center fund to the working cash fund.

Supt. Pier said installation of exit lights is necessary to comply with the safety code at the Boy Scout Building, where EMH classes are held, and at St. Mark's Catholic School basement, site of TMH classes.

To correct an electrical overload at the Venice schools, R. Dron Electric Co. was awarded a contract for a low bid of $350. The only other bid was submitted by Rite Electric.

Which quoted a $667 cost figure.

Approved was purchase of six sets of earphones, costing $37.50 per set, from Electronics Specialists Co. for use in the language arts program; books and material, costing $1,063, from Title I fund and equipment worth $750 from Title I fund.

R. Duane Rankin, Venice-Lincoln administrator, asked the board to seek engineering opinions in an effort to correct conditions which he said could result in serious water problems at the adult education building on South Fourth Street.

Remedial work has not started since last spring's damaging floods due to a constant high water table surrounding the building.

A flood this spring would cause extensive damage to the school, Rankin advised the board.

4 couples divorced

Town hall bids studied

Bids on construction of a township garage were opened by the Chouteau Township Board of Auditors last week and were referred to the architect for study.

The bids were close to the architect's estimate of $30,000 to construct the building.

Bidders will be required to show they are able to supply the necessary materials and that they comply with the provisions of the Bacon-Davis Act, utilizing fair labor hiring practices and union labor, before contracts will be awarded.

One bid on supplying the materials only for construction of the building was received from Stanton Materials for $17,850. Stanton also submitted a $12,495 bid for construction of the building, without supplying materials. A joint bid for supplying materials and constructing the building of $30,345 also was received from the Stanton firm.

Leon Ross Co. of East Alton submitted an $11,556 bid to construct the building, without supplying materials, and also bid on supplying materials and constructing the building for $23,861.

Stanton was the sole bidder to install a chain link fence around the property for $3,451, but only if the firm receives the contract to construct the building.

Stanton submitted a bid of $6,044 for plumbing work, higher than a $4,725 bid from Plumbing and Heating Co. The Stanton firm's bid for electrical work, $4,780, also was higher than another bid, $3,778 from Wegman Electric Co. of Granite City.

Another bid was received for concrete work, only, but was rejected by the board as not meeting the specifications prepared by the architect.

The township plans to construct the building with federal revenue sharing funds on a 6.41 acre site north of Interstate 240 on the access road behind the Midwest Motel.

Plans were discussed for the annual town meeting which is to be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 9, at the Fun & Sun Beach Resort in Mitchell. The location was determined at a special meeting of the board Saturday.

Also at that meeting, the board voted to retain Granite City Trust and Savings Bank as its depository for all general funds, general assistance funds and road and bridge funds.

A motion to appoint Morris Miles as the township's weed eradication commissioner was defeated by a 3 to 2 vote.

Honduras helped by Rotarians

An agricultural university has been established in Honduras, Central America, through the efforts of United States Rotarians, according to Ernest Tosovsky Sr., a member of the Edwardsville club.

Tosovsky spoke at last week's meeting of the Madison Rotary Club in the Madison Recreation Center.

Tosovsky, owner of the Home Nursery, Edwardsville, has been going to Honduras the past eight years and is in weekly communication with the university, offering them technical advice.

President Wade James reminded club members that the Chamber of Commerce will meet at the Madison Firemen's hall on Thursday, March 28.

Two hurt in auto accident here

Ford loses in County Board primary race

Robert L. Ford was defeated 382-292 by Anthony Bosich and also trailed Robert Frotts' 310 in a six-way race Tuesday for the Democratic nomination in Madison County Board District 12, Wood River.

Democratic County board incumbents renominated included Mrs. Margaret May, Mrs. Frances Roberts and Wayne Bridgewater. Republican incumbents renominated were George Walter and James R. Hell.

Reb. Richard Hart (D, Benton) survived an effort by Gov. Dan Walker to gain a state legislative nomination Tuesday for his son-in-law, David Vaughn of Marion.

In the 57th Legislative District in St. Clair County, Rep. Monroe Flier (20,619) and Mrs. Wyvett Young, an attorney (11,973) votes were nominated in the Democratic party over Rep. James Krause (8,827).

Faces two charges after accident

Harold Vaughn, 31, of 3924 Gaslight Walk Apartments, Pontoon Beach, was released on $50 bond last week after police charged him with unlawful use of a weapon and improper lane usage, following an auto accident at Pontoon and Johnson roads.

Vaughn's auto and one being driven by Maryann Goss, 3024 Circle Drive, collided at the intersection. Vaughn was injured in the collision but declined hospital treatment. Police said Vaughn was in possession of a blackjack.

School Board delays contract

The Granite City School Board last week again tabled a motion to award a contract for a steel storage building for North High School to give Gully A. Heubner, director of buildings and grounds, an opportunity to discuss technical specifications with the bidding contractors.

A bid for $17,400 by Crook General Contracting Co. for a Butler Building was withdrawn by the contractor because of a time element in the original bid.

The board agreed to third bids for the proposed building are from Ed Moore Construction Co. at $19,791 for a Republic Steel Building and G. H. Sternberg Co. for an Armco Building costing $19,915. Differences in the specifications involve exposed of enclosed fasteners for the storage building.

Approved by the board for payment was a bill for $4,832 to Rite Electric Co. for nine miscellaneous jobs completed during the construction of the North building, involving changes in the original plans.

Heubner was granted authority to replace a thermopane window at North High School at a cost of $329 by Granite City Glass Co. as an emergency measure in lieu of securing bids.

Resignations were accepted from Cheryl Owen, who presently is on leave of absence, and Bonnie Rhea, vocal music teacher at Coddage Junior High School, and granted extended leaves of absence to Margaret Amiech, nurse, and Shirley Kreling, home economics teacher, both for the school year 1974-75.

The board also agreed to a return from leaves of absence by Lynn McClain, art teacher; Joyce Sullivan, elementary teacher; and Constance King, girls physical education teacher.

Board approval was given for release of temporary, part-time and substitutes who have served 20 days or longer at the close of the school year 1973-74. They include William Novinger, Paul Hoffman, Carol Domrosky, Ruth Mullen, Paul Bowler, Larry Lope, Margaret Hagaman, Linda Koenig and Kathy Cruse.

students enrolled in track and baseball, comprised of 157 students taking part in the two sports at South High School, which has four coaches in each activity.

A decision on constructing two highway entrances at the North High School will be made at a later meeting after a legal opinion is secured from the Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction as to limits on costs, board members decided.

Resignations were accepted from Cheryl Owen, who presently is on leave of absence, and Bonnie Rhea, vocal music teacher at Coddage Junior High School, and granted extended leaves of absence to Margaret Amiech, nurse, and Shirley Kreling, home economics teacher, both for the school year 1974-75.

The regulations do not require a negative test for EIA, or movement of horses within the state.

EIA attacks the blood system of horses and other equine animals such as mules, donkeys, burros, ponies and zebras.

It causes a general weakening of the animal, giving it lowered resistance to a number of other diseases and ailments, and is frequently typified by swelling in the lower extremities and the abdomen.

Shriners open blood bank to public

One of the first severely handicapped youngsters ever to receive treatment at the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children in St. Louis will be a donor at Tuesday's blood bank program sponsored by the Tri-City Shrine Club.

Local Shriners are inviting all area residents to contribute one pint of blood from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m. tomorrow at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road, thereby providing blood coverage protection for their families for the next 12 months.

Avery Schermer, blood chairman for the Tri-City Shrine Club, said Mrs. Katie Shockley of Pevely, Mo., will be the special donor at the blood clinic tomorrow.

Schermer, who is president of Schermer Bros. Market, 12th Street and Madison Avenue, said he met Mrs. Shockley, accidentally while the Missouri resident was shopping at his store.

Mrs. Shockley disclosed that she had been taken to Shriners' Hospital as a child in 1923 for orthopedic treatment to correct a serious birth defect in one hip.

Since the surgery and subsequent rehabilitation were successful, she has been able to lead a fairly normal life, she related.

Mrs. Shockley is the mother of three grown children and drives her own automobile without difficulty, Schermer said.

"When she learned about plans for the blood bank program, she asked if she would be allowed to give blood," Schermer explained. "I told her we would welcome her contribution," he added.

"All donors, whether Shriners or not, are welcome to participate in Tuesday's clinic and afford their families full coverage of possible blood needs for the next year," Schermer said.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Mon., Mar. 25, 1974 Page 19

He noted that a single donation protects all children living in a household, plus parents and grandparents on both sides of the family.

An extra bonus from Tuesday's blood bank clinic, Schermer said, is that donations made through the program here will cover the blood needs of youngsters who may be sent to the Shriners' Burns Center in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Several seriously burned children have been taken to the Cincinnati center by local Shriners and have required between 20 and 30 pints of blood to help their recovery.

"We then had to make a concentrated last minute effort to obtain blood donors to cover their needs," Schermer advised.

The chairman said that no appointment is necessary to donate blood and added that a large Red Cross contingent will be assigned to the five-hour program to insure donors immediate service with a minimum period spent at the clinic.

The Tri-City Shrine Club will sponsor only one clinic this year, instead of two. More than 100 Shriners are expected to take part in the one-day drive, Schermer said.

Scouts to hold metal drive

Boy Scouts of the Cahokia Mount Council will be at four locations Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. to unload cars for people bringing scrap metal to them.

Receiving points will be at Grant City in the Nameoki Village Shopping Center; Viviano's Tom. Box, Shockley, Gaslight Plaza Shopping Center, Pontoon Beach; Memorial Park in downtown Granite City, and Schermer Brothers Market, 12th Street and Madison Avenue, Madison. Leo Schermer, chairman of the special projects committee said, "I hope everyone in the area will take a little time on March 30 and bring as much scrap metal as they can to one of the four locations. We will have Scouts there to unload the cars and trucks, and the money will be put to good use."

Rule on horses entering state

Persons importing horses into Illinois must comply with new regulations starting next month.

Dr. Paul B. Doty, superintendent of meat, poultry and livestock inspection, says Regulation 1 of the Equine Infectious Anemia Eradication Act requires that after April 1, 1974, each horse entering the state (except those consigned for immediate slaughter) must test negative for the disease before crossing the state line.

The test, called an agar-gel immunodiffusion (AGID) test for equine infectious anemia (EIA), must be conducted within 15 months prior to entering the state.

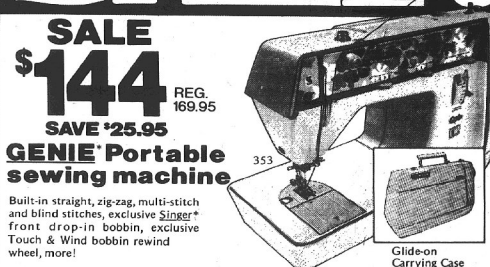

The regulations do not require a negative test for EIA, or movement of horses within the state.

EIA attacks the blood system of horses and other equine animals such as mules, donkeys, burros, ponies and zebras.

It causes a general weakening of the animal, giving it lowered resistance to a number of other diseases and ailments, and is frequently typified by swelling in the lower extremities and the abdomen.

How to do your bit to conserve energy and get three rewards!

The most productive step you can take to conserve natural gas and electricity is to add insulation to your home or to any building where people live or work.

While many steps to conserve energy involve sacrifices, insulation rewards you. In fact, not once but three times.

Reward no. 1—Real savings on both heating and air conditioning costs. A government study has shown that these savings will return the cost of insulation in a few years.

Reward no. 2—Greater comfort. Not only will your fuel bills be lower but your home or building will be heated or cooled far more efficiently.

Reward no. 3—Quieter surroundings. Insulation helps shut out outside noise and lowers the indoor noise level too.

For more information on the benefits of insulation, or for a handbook on do-it-yourself insulation, just ask at our office.
